

WAR CHEST INTEREST
BIG BOOST TO FUND

Depositors' Decision to Pay
Three Per Cent Interest Will Add Enormous Sum

Thousands of dollars will roll into the War Chest as the result of the decision of banks and trust companies to pay three per cent interest on War Chest accounts. The fund, in this way, will go far above the amount subscribed.

The War Chest fund still lacks approximately $2,000,000 of the minimum amount of $5,000,000 set as the goal for the campaign, but leaders of the movement in the "five-county zone" expect this deficit to be more than made up, as the campaign is still being conducted on a minor scale. It is expected the amount will be raised this week.

To avoid the accumulation of too large an amount in any one bank, the War Welfare Council have adopted a simplified scheme.

Subscribers have pledged themselves to pay a certain amount throughout the year will receive within a month or so books of twelve coupons and a like number of stubs, each with the number of the marked subscriber on it.

The holder of the book will take it to the bank or trust company where his installments are made, and the stubs will be received and the coupon detached, the payment being held to the credit of Drexel and Company, treasurer of the War Chest fund.

The amount to be realized from the interest will be enormous. Assuming that $20,000,000 has been pledged for one year, $1,666,000 will be paid by the monthly contributors on July 1, and a like sum the first of each following month. It is not expected that the demands of the beneficiaries will keep pace with the receipts of the monthly subscriptions and that before long the amounts collected at the various banks and trust companies will exceed the amount in interest. Every bank and trust company in the city will pay three per cent interest on the accounts.

Merion has outstanding every other town in the five counties by attaining a per capita average of $165 for its 1,000 population. Before this was reported, Chester county, held the lead with $25.51 per capita. The $75,000 pledge of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bok was included in Merion's total.

Benny Bourdette, twelve years old, 619 South street, a pupil of the McCall school, Sixth and De Lancey streets, has just reported subscriptions of $231. His pledges range from $10 to $25 a month from a bootblack to $25 a month from a lawyer.

Camp Meade, Md., June 10.
As a melting pot for the fusing of more than twenty nationalities, Little Penn has been a huge success, and that part of Uncle Sam's family interested in the fusing process will be given an opportunity to view the finished product within another fortnight, for Alexander A. Steinbach, director of Jewish activities at this camp, is getting ready to christen the new "Little White House."

The Jewish Welfare building that serves more than two thousand soldiers was too small to meet the needs of the men in khaki, so a new and more imposing structure has been erected. It is one of the show places in the camp, and while the christening of this edifice is a mere incident in the general news of the day, the type of soldier who will play a conspicuous role at the ceremony cannot be dismissed so easily.

To begin with there will be represented at the dedicatory exercises more than a dozen races and as many countries, for among the Jewish soldiers are natives of England, Russia, Austria, South Africa, Canada, Spain, Portugal, Belgium and France.

"All of them," says Steinbach, "are proud of their American citizenship and anxious to prove it by doing their bit here. Fifty per cent of the men were born under foreign flags and having experienced the workings of their native Governments are satisfied that under the standard of democracy can true liberty be found. Our sociologists may call them the products of the melting pot, and no doubt they are, but they have assimilated American ideals so thoroughly that they must now be classed as 100 per cent Americans. They know why America is at war and appreciate that if America is to win and make the world a safe place for their brothers in other lands, it is up to them to help."

Steinbach is mighty proud of the bunch, and on the big day, or when the Little White House is christened, he will be given an opportunity to feature some of his nephews. A strict feature of the program will concern the guard of honor, which is to be made up of former Russian soldiers. There are scores of Camp Meade citizens who served the Czar and fifty of these men will be selected to serve as an honor guard at the christening.

Lord Reading, the British Ambassador; Justice Louis D. Brandeis, of the United States Supreme Court, and scores of notable Jews are expected to be present, and in the presence of these distinguished guests the Meadeites will demonstrate their abilities.

The guard has not been selected, but among the men will be many Philadelphians. One of them will be Jacob Margoules, 533 Dickson street, who is a member of the 110th Field Artillery and served three years in the Czar's army. Another is David Cohen, of 2423 Newkirk street, also a veteran of the Russian army and now a member of the 312 Field Artillery.

REGISTER DESPITE SEPARATION,
ORDER TO WIVES OF GERMANS

Only Death or Divorce Ends Marital Relation, According to Rules Posted Requiring Alien Women to Report
Between June 17 and 26

American women who are wives of German aliens, but separated from them without divorce, are required to register as German alien women, according to regulations governing the registration of German alien women between June 17 and June 26, posted today by Department of Justice officials in this city. The registration law holds that severance of marital relations is effected only by death or divorce.

Widows or divorcees who were American citizens before marriage to an alien may resume citizenship by continuing to reside in the United States, or, if abroad, by registering within a year at the United States consulate as American citizens.

The regulations posted follow: "All natives, citizens, denizens or subjects of the German Empire, or of the Imperial German Government, being females of the age of fourteen years and up who are within the United States and not actually naturalized as American citizens."
"Austro-Hungarian women are not required to register, unless they come within the provisions of the previous paragraph."

"Those who are required to register and fail to do so, and those who do register and are found without a registration card, are liable to internment."
"A woman, irrespective of her parents' nationality, who is born in the United States is not registrable unless she has taken an oath of allegiance to Germany or has married and still is married to a German who is not naturalized as an American citizen, or is the widow or divorced wife of a German and has not resumed American citizenship."

Any woman, widow or divorcee, who was an American citizen before marriage to an alien by nativity or by naturalization may resume American citizenship after the death or divorce of her husband, by continuing to reside in the United States, or, if abroad, by registering within one year at the United States consulate as an American citizen or by returning to the United States to reside. The law holds that severance of the marital relations is effected only by death or divorce, not by separation, judicial or voluntary.

The naturalization of a male alien naturalizes his wife, if she herself might be lawfully naturalized, and their foreign born minor children residing in the United States at the time of such naturalization, as well as all other minor children, foreign born who become permanent residents of the United States before reaching twenty-one years.

The marriage of a German female alien to an American citizen prior to April 6, 1917, the date of the declaration of war by the United States against Germany, naturalizes the woman.
A German female alien who has acquired American naturalization by marrying an American citizen, but is now a widow or divorcee, retains her American citizenship unless she has renounced it.

The taking out of first citizenship papers does not relieve a German alien female of obligation to register, nor does part or complete naturalization in some other country.

Shipment of steel continues to be the question uppermost in the minds of the officials directing operations at the big shipyard. Although steel is now reaching Hog Island in greater quantities than heretofore, shipments are still inadequate. As fast as steel reaches the yard, it is "speeded" to its position on the ships. As yet there has been no opportunity to begin the storing of a reserve supply.

From Charles M. Schwab, director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, down to the individual workers at the shipyard, every ounce of energy is bent toward the expediting of steel shipments. A striking instance of this was recorded last week when A. T. McCauland, of the steam transportation department, brought four carloads of steel from Canada to Hog Island in thirty-six hours.

He wired from Montreal that he was going to show how steel should be rushed. When the cars started he was sitting on one of them and stayed there throughout the trip to see that they were not cut off or sidetracked.

The keel of another tanker was laid today at the plant of the Pennsylvania Shipyard, Gloucester, on the same ways from which the tanker Allen-town was launched yesterday afternoon.

The "half-way mark" in laying the keels for the first big contract of fifty ships at Hog Island was reached today, when the twenty-fifth keel was laid. When completed, the vessel will be the Scitico, a 7500-ton cargo carrier.

The big shipyard is now a little more than 85 per cent complete, and with construction progressing at the rate of 2 per cent per week will be finished early in August. Fifty shipways—the capacity of the yard—will then be in operation, the hot wet basin will be ready to take the first ship launched, and every building will be in shape to accommodate the maximum number of workers.

"Perahing's Crusaders," the official Government war films, are on view at the Forrest for this week.

George M. Cohan returns to the movie screen this week at the Arcadia, where he is appearing in "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday," which played at the Garrick some seasons ago.

Jack Pickford is a conspicuous figure on Broadway, New York, in his new sailor suit, but not any more so than in his photoplay character of "His Majesty Bunker Bean," which is playing at the Bluebird, Fairmount, Jumbo and Empress Theatres.

"Ray Day" is the screen name for the show which played at the Broad under the title of "Her Price." The film features Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew and is at the Regent.

Florence Reed had the leading role in "The Yellow Ticket" when that play was at the Garrick, but now Fannie Ward is appearing in the chief part in the film version at the Palace.

The sequel to "Tarzan of the Apes" is being cut and will be ready for a private showing within the next few weeks. The "Tarzan" movie is to be at the Market Street Theatre.

"De Luxe Annie" is the screen version of the play which was on view in New York the early part of the season. Norma Talmadge is starred in it at the Stanley.

Another play which did not come to this city in spoken form is "The Knife," which now features Alice Brady in the movie and is scheduled for the Model Theatre.

ADVENTURES WITH A PURSE

SILK UNDERWEAR
FOR YOUR HOPE CHEST
Bargain to Be Considered.
Soldier's Drinking Cup
and a Swing

ITS too bad that silk underwear is such an extravagance that many of us must deny ourselves the luxurious feeling of the soft texture against our skin and the comforting knowledge that we are dressed up "underneath." Once in a while, however, a piece of lingerie is discovered that has been so greatly lowered in price that it comes just within reach of the slender purse. Take the matter of silk bloomers, for instance. Ordinarily they could not be found high or low for less than $2.50. But I discovered some today for only $1.55. They are of pale pink silk. Some have ruffles edged in pale blue, while others have a bit of hemstitching to finish off the ruffle. Shall you wear your pair now or put them in your hope chest?

What a pleasant change cretonne bureau covers make for summer! They may be gay and colorful or they may be quiet and subdued, but somehow one just naturally wants some kind of cretonne scarfs for a change. I saw some very pleasing ones today with inserts of torchon lace and their price is $1.25.

Hot days and setting-up exercises for soldiers mean many trips to the "old oxen bucket," and it is said that drinking cups are scarce. I saw folding drinking cups today, which fit snugly into a trim khaki case, and the price is only 35 cents. Take "him" one the next time you go a-visiting to camp.

Swing high, swing low, in the old back yard! We city folks whose lawns or yards are sizable have some consolation left to us, for we can fit them up with cozy chairs and inviting hammocks or swings and make believe we are spending the warm weather at our summer home. I saw chummy lawn swings today seating four, which are especially priced at $4.95. And what a pleasant lazy feeling to rock back and forth in the coolness of the summer evenings.

Camp McClellan, Annapolis, Md., June 10.—Many of the 400 cadets in the fourth officers' training camp being conducted at this place have "fallen under" in the grueling first month's instruction schedule, hot weather having exerted a severe physical pressure on the student personnel. The third officers' training camp was in session during three cold months, and the results formed a marked contrast.

Captain Louis R. Page, formerly of the First City Troop of Philadelphia, was promoted today to the rank of Major in the 112th Heavy Field Artillery.

IN COOKING PORK, BEEF OR VEAL
USE IT ALL BUT MOO AND SQUEAL

Housewives Must Beware of Loss and Make the Butcher Come Across With Every Ounce for Which They Pay—Such Is Jay Cooke's Advice Today

"Save the trimmings!"
"Get everything you pay for."
"The bones have value."
JAY COOKE, Food Administrator.
THE butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker, you'll find, in a "weigh," each one is a fakir!"
Thus saith Jay Cooke, and his saying is true, as he'll swear by the roast, or the fry, or the stew!
"If you really would vanquish the fierce H. C. L. that just now is raising particular—well, it's raising, all right, as you will agree; but listen, dear reader, just listen to me!"
"When buying, in market, the cow or the pig, and beating it home again, jig-gety-jig, be sure, in your hustle, and hurry, and sweat that just what you pay for is just what you get!"

"Remember the stories, the Sacred Books tell of the man who was fed by the crumbings that fell from the table of Dives. So watch for the skimmings and make the slick butcherman wrap up the trimmings!"
"Now Napoleon has said that the very best troop he had in his army was nourished on soup—so scorn not the bones nor permit them to rot but save them and put them, each one, in the pot!"
"So draw in your belts and lay out a bit what best can be saved and what's best to can—for in cooking of cows and of pigs, sirs, I feel, we must use everything but the moo and the squeal!"

VANDERBILT WEDDING
Marriage Will Be Solemnized Under Massive Elm Tree
Baltimore, June 10.—The wedding of Mrs. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt and Raymond T. Baker, director of the United States Mint in Washington, D. C., will take place on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Vanderbilt's country home, Holmwood, near Lenox, Mass. Captain Isaac E. Emerson will give his daughter in marriage.

The ceremony will be performed beneath a massive elm on the lawn of the estate. Mrs. William B. Osgood Field, an intimate friend of Mrs. Vanderbilt, has opened Highview House and will entertain some of the wedding guests. Mrs. Vanderbilt's sons, Alfred G. and George Vanderbilt, will remain at Holmwood with relatives during the wedding journey. Mrs. Vanderbilt's private car will be used for the trip, which will be to Nevada and the Pacific coast.

Military Escort at Wedding
A special escort of honor composed of men in the service of Uncle Sam will attend the wedding at 8 o'clock this evening of Miss Laura C. Jacoby, sixteen years old, of 30 South King street, and Norman F. Richards, nineteen years old, a private in Company L, Twenty-second Regiment, stationed at the immigrant station, Gloucester. The wedding will take place in the First Baptist Church, Gloucester. The Rev. K. Keith Cherry, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. W. Jacoby, an uncle of the bride.

Three Thousand New Yorkers
Waited Twelve Hours
to Hear Her Sing!

Think of three thousand people waiting twelve hours on the street to hear her sing! Think of selling $440,000 worth of records of her voice in six months! Think of being only twenty-eight and having the musical world at her feet! That's Galli-Curci—the greatest living soprano who had all New York wild about her last Winter.

Pictorial Review for July contains a magnificent set of special rotogravure pictures of Mme. Galli-Curci—the wonder singer of the world. These pictures are in delicate soft tints and are all ready to be removed and framed. They were taken exclusively for Pictorial Review and cannot be obtained elsewhere. They are included in the magazine without extra cost. Accompanying these pictures Jane Lee has written an intimate account of the romantic career of Mme. Galli-Curci, based on personal interviews in her own home. Many striking facts are made public for the first time.

These Galli-Curci Rotogravures are in Pictorial Review for July

Now It's "Spiral" Socks
Do you know how to make "spiral" socks? They're the latest for the soldiers. They will last three times longer than socks knitted in the old style. Page 51 tells exactly how to make these "spiral" socks, illustrating each stage.

What Do You Know About Nemi?
Do you know why it is so powerful? Do you know any members? Don't miss reading "The Golden Bough," by George Gibbs. What a mysterious story it is! In Pictorial Review for July there is a twenty-five thousand word instalment telling all about the fight for the treasure and the reason why Rowland and Tanya swore to defend it with their lives.

Two More Pictures for Framing
In addition to the Galli-Curci rotogravures, don't miss a patriotic rotogravure picture by Henry Mosler of "The Liberty Bell" which should be in every American home. There is also a cunning rotogravure picture of a baby you could almost hug. Copy these rotogravures are in the softest sepia shades.

Was She a Sinner or a Saint?
Which do you think Wild Honey was? Out there in the lawless country, every man who saw her loved her. But Peter Holbrook resisted. At first she laughed at his sermons but when the big time came the man's soul, tried by fire, made the woman change. Don't miss this powerful story by Vingie Roe.

Why Women Must Learn to Say "We"
Another of Senator Helen Ring Robinson's stirring talks to her own sex. Senator Robinson has been in politics for so many years that she knows every twist and turn in the game. By following the advice she gives many a pit-fall can be avoided by the millions of women who are now privileged to vote.

Do You Know Why Drying Is the Easiest Way to Save Food?
Helen Christine Bennett shows you absolutely new methods of drying food. She shows how cheap it is, how easy it is and how to save the flavor and nutritive value. She also shows you what mistakes to avoid—and the know.

Dainty Summer Styles
Pictorial Review for July contains pages and pages of delightful summary washable frocks. Don't miss the new styles in gingham. See the afternoon dresses and the new capes to wear over them. All the smartest novelties in bathing suits are shown. All these designs are simple and easy to make up with the aid of Pictorial Review Patterns.

Pictorial Review for July is the best 20c worth in America. It gives you entertainment and information. It shows you how to save money on everything you wear, everything you eat, everything you cook and everything you buy for the home. It contains a corking serial novel and some of the finest short stories money can buy. There are four pages of rotogravure pictures for framing. These alone are worth double the cost of the whole magazine. Pictorial Review sells very cheaply. This month this July issue probably will be sold out within a few days after publication.
